BBC's Jeremy Nicholas meets members of the Derby National Trophy organising team

Derby's upcoming British Cycling Cyclo-Cross National Trophy event received a welcome boost today with a visit for the BBC.

Members of organising committee and other local riders met with Jeremy Nicholas to show him a little of the sport and tell him about Derby's plans for the event.

Schedules permitting the resulting feature will be shown within BBC East Midlands regional news program on Tuesday 23 September ... visit the event website at www.derby.nationaltrophy.org.uk for more information.
